NUMBER OF TRACTORS INCREASES -- Rude Pravo, No 271, 20 Nov 48

Eighty-two new agricultural machinery cooperatives were founded in Bohemia during October, making a total of over 4,000. Agricultural-machinery cooperatives and state machinery stations now have 14,296 tractors. More than 22,000 tractors are now used in agriculture. In the time of the first republic, there were only 3,882 tractors used in agriculture.

MACHINE STATIONS KICKED ALTERNATE PLAN -- Rude Pravo, No 265, 13 Nov 48

The cooperative machine stations have not only fulfilled their plan, but have even exceeded their alternate plan, which they set up in April 1948. They mowed 25,006 hectares, which was one quarter more than last year, and threshed 161,942 quintals of grain.
